Bean Shipments

The Florida East Coast Railway has purchased land and made all necessary arrangements for building about one-half mile more of siding in the section of Belle Glade near the depot. The extra piece of siding will facilitate the shipment of beans from the Belle Glade de-

Monday night, Nov. 5, promptly at 9 o'clock marks the close of the biggest and best vote period of the subscription contest which the Everglades News is conducting and at no other time during the campaign will contestants secure as many votes for subscriptions.

In the past there has been a congested condition in and around the depot caused by a lack of siding facilities and East Coast boats are to be congratulated for having made plans to care for the situation. The work will be completed immediately, it was stated, with plans of having the new track in place by the end of the current shipping season (Oct. 1st).

PROHI AMENDMENT EFFECTIVE AT ONCE

TALLAHASSEE, Nov. 1 (FNS)—If ratified by a majority of voters participating in the November 6 election, the prohibition amendment will become effective immediately, according to a ruling by Attorney General C. D. Landis.

There is no provision in the law requiring an official count of the county results on constitutional amendments by the state or county canvassing board, or is there provision for an official proclamation declaring the result.

Dealers may, therefore, immediately ask for licenses in accordance with city and state license laws in effect December 31, 1956, when the present amendment will take effect.

TO THE CONTESTANTS AND THEIR FRIENDS:—

With the BIG vote period in the EVERGLADES NEWS subscription campaign ending next Monday night, Nov. 5th, promptly at 9 p.m., and the closing date of the entire campaign just a few short weeks away, contestants should be straining every nerve right now in their final efforts to amass the largest reserve votes in the first period.

Friends are responding loyally in support of their favorite candidate in the race, and friends everywhere are speculating on who the grand prize winner will be.

Here's a thought for the contestants to get; others are working for themselves and their own interests, not yours. This is a contest. They are going to beat you, and make you like it, unless you beat them. Every contestant should do his very best every minute of the time from now on until 9 p.m. Monday night. Some contestants are getting long time subscriptions, the five-year subscriptions count up fast. They are the ones that will win. Get five-year subscriptions if you entertain any thought whatever of winning the first prize in this contest. Are you trying for the five-year subscriptions, they are easy to sell, if you try. Get this straight — get five-year subscriptions AND WIN ...
